ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I would like to specially thank Vicky Lymberger and Betty Taylor at the Vassalboro Public Library for lending me their precious books of bound photocopies of the original town records books. They made my work for this book much easier. I would also like to specially thank Russell Smith, also at the library, for pointing out the vital records contained in the Town Reports. If it were not for him, those precious records would not have been added to this book.

INTRODUCTION

The town of Vassalboro, Maine is located in Kennebec County twelve miles north northeast of the county seat of Augusta. Following the withdrawal by the French into Canada and the end of hostilities with the native Americans by the year 1750, settlements started to spring up on the Kennebec River. Some settlers were in this area after Fort Western and Fort Halifax had been built in 1753 and 1754 but it was not until after 1761 that businessmen started to arrive. In 1760 the Proprietors of the Kennebec Purchase had laid out vacant lots on each side of the Kennebec River for both the Proprietors and future settlers. Prior to the first actual survey of this land made by Nathan Winslow in the year 1761, the land areas were vague and in some instances the same land had been sold to more than one individual. This caused legal difficulties for a number of years. On April 25, 1771 the town was incorporated as Vassalborough being named for an early Vassall family. Prior to February 20, 1799, when the county of Kennebec was incorporated, Vassalborough was located within the northern portion of the county of Lincoln. By 1818 the Town Clerk was using a shortened spelling of "Vassalboro" rather than the original Vassalborough but there does not appear to have been an official change of the name.

These records were extracted and transcribed from book bound photo copies of the original Vassalboro, Maine town record books and contain all the births, marriage intentions, marriages, and deaths that were recorded in the Vassalboro, Maine town records books. None of the town meeting records have been included. Also, included in this book are all of the vital records contained in the original Town Reports from 1850-1899 and all pre-1900 Delayed Birth records. The vital records have been transcribed as they appear in the books, including any misspellings, punctuation, etc.

A special note: In book three of the Vassalboro Public Library's copy, the last 15 pages are not in the correct order. I have put them in the correct order in this book.

Report of Board of Health.

On the nineteenth of October a case of diptheria was reported by Dr. Hall. The patient died within twenty-four hours after the doctor's first visit. It was immediately buried and the family, Mr. [continued below]

24

Patrick O'Reilley, was quarantined. On the twenty-fifth another child in the same family was taken, and although we believe everything possible was done by the attending physician, Dr. Mabry, to save this patient, this one, a boy four years old, died and was privately and immediately buried. Meanwhile a child of Mike Rief having played with this family before the outbreak of the disease, was taken and this family was quarantined. This child recovered and no more cases in the family. Another child of the O'Reilly family, a girl twelve years old, died November 17th after a terrible sickness. Deciding that it was sure death for this whole family to remain in their present quarters plans were formed for removing them to a large tenement offered by Mr. Sampson across the street, but occupied by Mr. Philbrook. He finding another house kindly moved out to his great inconvenience, and on the evening of the seventeenth the remaining members of the family left their home and moved into another which had been furnished with new beds, etc. On the nineteenth another was carried and laid beside the other three in the grave yard, and on the twenty-first still another. The two remaining children although stricken with the disease recovered.

Report of Board of Health.

Its secretary, [H. D. B. Ayer], has personally buried four victims of diptheria, described as follows:

On May 11, 1893, Dr. Mabry reported a case of diptheria in the family of Mike O'Kiefe. This family was at once quarantined and looked after every day until the 14th, when the patient, a boy 17 years old, died and was privately buried the same day. On the 21st, another child in the same family, a girl 15 years old, was taken, although very sick recovered, the quarantine was raised June 14th.

Dec. 13, Dr. Mabry reported a case of diptheria in the family of John Goodrich, a child 6 months old having died with it the night before. I immediately went to the house, quarantined the family, and as soon as possible buried the child. I visited the family nearly every day, carrying disendectant etc., until quarantine was raised. On the 16th, a boy 2 ½ years old died at 6.30 P.M. It was buried before 12 that night. The remaining child and father had the disease, but recovered. Quarantine raised Jan. 1, 1895.

On Jan. 2, Dr. Hall gave verbal notice of a case of diptheria in the family of Daniel O'Kiefe. This family was placed in quarantine and their wants looked after. On the 14th the patient, a boy 8 years old, died and was immediately buried. Another child, a a girl 7 years old, had the disease but recovered. Quarantine raised Jan. 28.
